

BLADE RUNNER

Didn't know it was possible to pilot a helicopter yourself without the need for formalities? Now you do. Supervised by an experienced flying instructor in a chopper kitted out with dual controls, you'll receive a detailed briefing, theoretical instructions and a full run-down of cockpit controls. When cleared for take-off, you'll ascend to the sky, where you'll approach a range of landing sites and practise hovering. Want to experience some exciting manoeuvres? Your flight instructor will be happy to make it happen. We'll have a hot chocolate or glass of champagne at the ready on your triumphant return.
